Photo Contest Celebrates America's Libraries

Photographers of all ages, both amateurs and pros, get ready to enter the biggest library photo contest ever. The event is sponsored by the American Library Association, Library of Congress and your local libraries.

The Beyond Words: Celebrating America's Libraries Photo Contest aims to capture the spirit of America's libraries and the many ways they touch our lives. Whether it's a place to study, surf the Internet, enjoy a story or check out a new mystery or video, today's libraries provide an array of resources to build a nation of readers and lifelong learners. So celebrate the library with a vision, while also helping the Library of Congress mark its bicentennial.

A total of 27 awards worth $10,000 will be given at the national level. Winner of the grand prize will also receive a trip to Washington, D.C. and a personal tour of the Library of Congress. Entry rules and forms may be picked up at Panzer or Robinson barracks libraries, RB Arts & Crafts Center or downloaded from the Internet at www.ala.org/celebrating/photo/rulesc.html. All entries must be submitted to the libraries by close of business April 1. Call the Patch Library, 0711-680-7138, or Robinson Library, 0711-420-6424, for details.

Allowance Adjustments Made

Effective Jan. 3, the Office of Allowances will no longer adjust the living quarters allowance rates biweekly for changes in the value of the U.S. dollar against local currencies. Unless there is a significant devaluation of the U.S. dollar that would cause employees to be substantially out of pocket, the allowances in effect at the beginning of Calendar Year 1999 will remain until the post submits new quarters expense reports. This change implements one of the proposals from the recent Interagency Working Group that studied the LQA methodology. For more information call Casey Chapman, 0711-729-2372.

Units Must Plan for Building Use

The 6th ASG Plans & Operations controls the following buildings only: 3304, 3305 (first floor only), 3306, 3309 and 3310.
